- Pallets donated to local business and residents for furniture making

Education activities completed:

- Careers talks at North Walkden Primary School and St Paul's Crompton School
- 28 apprenticeship weeks including two Wates apprentices completing NVQs
- One high school student worked with architects, Pozzoni, to gain knowledge and experience before pursuing a career in architecture
- 4 training weeks including a community talk from Papyrus, the prevention of young suicide charity
- 3 weeks work placement for a local person who is currently unemployed and looking for experience so he can apply for jobs in the construction industry

Worsley Leisure Centre has been transformed as part of Salford City Council's £35m master plan to develop leisure centres across the City to boost local people's health and wellbeing.

This development means we can continue to help more people get and stay active. The new facilities are wonderful news for the local community and are a legacy to the expertise, attention to detail and professionalism of the contractor.
